Venice firm fined for fatal accident

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

A Venice firm has been fined $125,000 by the U.S. Occupational Safety and Health Administration for alleged safety violations that resulted in the death of a worker in November.

Spectrulte Consortium, Inc., was cited for two serious safety violations by the agency on May 25, and has 15 working days to contest the charges. A third violation was considered less serious, according to a press release from OSHA.

On Nov. 29, Jodie Richie of Granite City was killed in an explosion at the plant's magnesium casting area. Two other workers were injured, one seriously.

OSHA Area Director Peggy Zweber said the citations were issued following a health inspection after the accident.

The first citation alleges that wet equipment was placed into molten magnesium. The second alleges the company failed to perform atmospheric monitoring when employees were required to enter confined spaces.

Both are considered "willful" violations.

"OSHA defines a willful violation as one which is committed with an intentional disregard of, or plain indifference" to safety codes, according to a press release issued by the agency.

The less serious charge was that the firm allegedly failed to mark confined spaces.

OSHA issued fines for the two more serious charges.

OSHA Assistant Area Director Barry Salerno said the two citations for willful violations are considered very serious. He added that the maximum fine for a willful violation is $70,000.

Salerno also said the plant was cited for similar violations in the 1980s, but he did not have the

Police dispatcher's trial expected to end this week

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

A former Pontoon Beach police dispatcher is on trial for allegedly telling a woman four years ago to destroy an incriminating note.

Andrea Kuehnel faces a charge of obstructing justice for allegedly telling a Pontoon Beach woman to tear up a note in which her 12-year-old daughter accused her father of sexual abuse.

The father later pleaded guilty to the sexual abuse charges and is currently in jail.

Both Kuehnel and the mother were indicted by a Madison County grand jury in 1993 for conspiring to destroy the evidence in September 1991. The mother, who is still awaiting trial, testified last week that Kuehnel, an acquaintance who worked for the police department at the time, told her to destroy the note.

Defense attorney James Wallis of Granite City said Kuehnel is innocent and disputed the mother's testimony, characterizing it as self-serving.

The mother also testified that a relative — not her — tore up the note and threw it away.

Pontoon Beach Police Chief Mike Crouch, who was a detective at the time of the alleged misconduct, the daughter who allegedly wrote the note, now age 16; and the girl's grandmother also testified last week.

Road project discussed

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Residents and businesses along Pontoon Road should not have to suffer too much with a $1.5 million road improvement project slated to begin next year.

Phase II of the Pontoon Road improvement is currently in the design stages, said John Hales of the Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab engineering firm.

"(Construction) is very inconvenient and it's dusty and it's a mess," Hales said. "But if we can get construction started in the spring (1996), we can get this project completed in one season (and avoid a lot of headaches)."

Phase I of the project could not be completed in one construction season. Only local traffic was allowed to travel the road while

School district to revise budget

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

The Granite City School District will have to revise its 1994-95 budget next month.

The school district will hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. June 27 on the proposed amended budget. Ratification is expected to follow later that evening.

Gene Logas, director of finance for the school district, said the budget has to be amended for three basic reasons: to include proceeds from a $12 million bond sale not included in the original budget; to increase authorized expenditures and revenues in the building fund; and to increase authorized expenditures in the transportation fund.

Voters approved a $12 million bond issue for the district last November. The proceeds are to be used for a major renovation of the high school.

"When the budget was passed in September, we obviously didn't know whether the referendum would be successful so we did not include it," Logas said.

And because the budget must be amended anyway, Logas said, it might as well be changed to more accurately reflect activity in the building and transportation funds.

"I think it is the prudent and careful thing to do," Logas said.

He said the building fund budget was very tight initially.

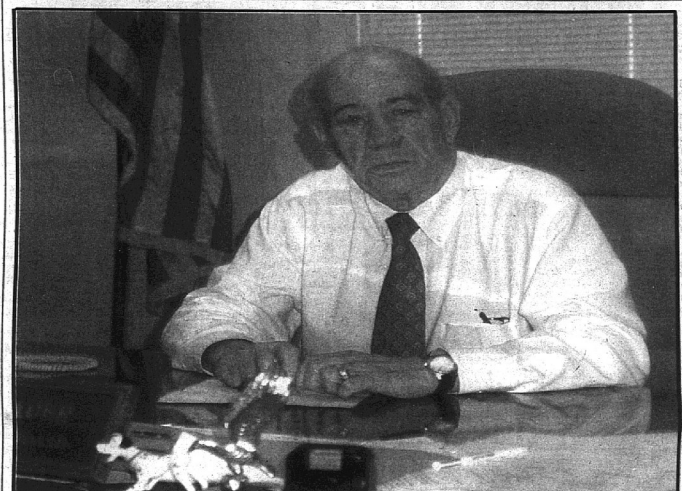

"It is possible we will expend more than the amount approved. That is why I recommended an additional $55,000 in expenditures and an additional $55,000 in revenue," Logas said.

Similarly, expenditures from the district's transportation fund related to special education costs are expected to exceed projections by about $140,000, Logas said.

But the state is reimbursing the district for transportation at a rate higher than projected,

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer

Leader of the board You can call him Nellie

By Scott Wuerz
Staff writer

Few people have spent more time in meetings than Madison County Board Chairman Nelson "Nellie" Hagnauer over the last 40 years, but that is just the way he likes it.

Hagnauer, 67, was first elected to public office as an assistant township supervisor in 1955 in Granite City Township. And the feeling of accomplishment being a public servant gave him, he said, has kept him going ever since.

In 1961 Hagnauer was elected Granite City Township supervisor, which at the time was a position that held a seat on the County Board.

"A lot of people were unhappy at that time with the service they're getting in the township," Hagnauer said. "I thought I could do a better job so I ran, and I beat an incumbent of 14 years."

Despite his advances up the political ladder, Hagnauer said

While he has entertained thoughts of retirement in recent years, Hagnauer said he still plans to run for re-election when his term expires in 1996.

when he began on the board he had no aspirations to become chairman.

"I was appointed chairman of the Financial Committee, and I found it quite interesting. I really got to see how the County Board worked," Hagnauer said. "But one of the board members asked me one day if I ever thought about being chairman."

"I told him I hadn't, and he told me I ought to, or else I might as well quit."

When the County Board reorganized in 1973, reducing the number of members to 29, Hagnauer ran for the chairmanship. He has held the position ever since.

In the 23 years he has led the County Board, Hagnauer lists his greatest accomplishments as the current expansion and renovation of the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville, the construction of the Madison County Administration Building in 1988 and the construction of Interstate 255 in the 1980s.

"The Administration Building is really important to the county as it grows," Hagnauer said. "It's important for new residents, and lifetime residents as well, to know that they won't have to run around to several different places when they have business with the county."

"They can go one place and get just about everything they

Grant funds to be widely available

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Mayor Ron Selph feels that community development block grant funds can best be used by spreading them throughout Granite City.

Last week, the City Council authorized Selph to apply to Madison County for the federal grant funds.

While the city has in the past targeted individual neighborhoods — East Granite, downtown and West Granite for example — for improvements with its CDBG allocation, Selph and his staff are working to spread this year's allocation of $754,000 around in a broad area.

"We felt the funds and services could be better utilized throughout the community," Selph said.

Included among the programs the city will apply for funding through community development are an emergency rehabilitation loan program, demolition of buildings, a summer youth employment program, a community-wide curb and gutter improvement program and a drainage improvement program in the North Grant area.

The emergency rehabilitation loan program is available to all city residents qualifying for assistance under CDBG low-moderate income guidelines. A total of $50,000 is available at no interest to qualified applicants needing a furnace, for weatherization or for other immediate improvements.

Payments on the loan are deferred — meaning the applicant need not repay a penny until he (or his heirs) sells the house.

The community-wide curb and gutter improvement program is available in all community development-qualified areas. More than $200,000 will be allocated for the program. Selph and his staff are in the process of surveying areas that are not currently qualified to determine if more than 50 percent of the residents meet the income guidelines.

"Unfortunately, people are slow to return the survey forms. Maybe they don't trust the government. But whatever the reason, they need to realize that this information can only help them," Selph said.

Other projects for which CDBG funds will be set aside are demolition of buildings ($50,000), a summer youth employment program ($87,000), and a badly needed drainage improvement program in

Weighty matter

Local man honored for losing 123 pounds

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

It was a long struggle, but Alfred Futrell finally reached his goal. Futrell, 54, of Granite City, was recently honored by Take of Pounds Sensibly, a nonprofit support group for people trying to lose weight. He received the group's Greatest Improvement Award after losing 123 pounds in a five-year period.

"Joining TOPS ranks near the top of the positive decisions I've made in my life," Futrell said. "I had grown to a grand weight of 318½ pounds and sported a waist size of 56 inches," he said. "I had resigned myself to the fact that I was going to be big and miserable for the rest of my life."

According to information provided by TOPS, approximately one out of five people are more than 20 percent over their ideal weight.

The organization is based in Milwaukee, has almost 300,000 members in 11,700 chapters. Most of those members are in the U.S. and Canada.

Futrell said his wife, Ann, convinced him to join the local TOPS chapter five years ago.

"We changed our eating habits," he said. "We laid off fats and sugars, and started eating vegetables and fruits."

Futrell's waist size isn't the only change.

"The world is prejudiced (against overweight people)," he said.

"Before, I was very, very shy," he said. "Losing that much weight improves self confidence. I am very much more outgoing now."

Futrell reached his weight-loss goal in February 1992, and has been on a weight maintenance diet since then.

He said maintaining his ideal weight is more difficult than losing weight.

"I actually went almost a year without a weight gain," he said. "Ninety-eight percent of people who lose weight gain it back and more in a five-year period."

In addition to being a TOPS member, Futrell also became a group leader.

As part of his prize, Futrell and his wife will be attending a TOPS convention in Halifax, Nova Scotia in July.

For information about TOPS, call 1-800-952-8977.

Hoffman task force takes aim at 'revolving door' of justice

SPRINGFIELD — State Rep. Jay Hoffman of Collinsville will chair a House Democrats' task force on how to slow down the revolving door of convicts.

Citing Illinois Department of Corrections numbers, Hoffman said 46 percent of convicts released in the state are back in prison within three years.

"We need to find new innovative ways to stop the revolving door criminal justice system," said Hoffman, who was the House Democrats' point man in their push for truth-in-sentencing legislation requiring most felons to serve at least 85 percent of their sentences.

Corrections Department Deputy Director Karl Becker said the recidivism rate of convicts has been fairly constant the last three years at about 46 percent, but that "is lower than many other states."

Hoffman contends part of the problem of repeated imprisonment is the lack of parole officers.

"Right now there are 67 parole officers who are supposed to look after 27,000 parolees," he said. "Even with X-ray vision, Superman couldn't look after that many people. It has resulted in a report-by-mail parole system."

However, Corrections Department spokesman Nic Howell said because of overcrowded prisons, convicts who are released on parole no longer are sent back for technical violations, such as not showing up for appointments with a parole agent, as was once the case. That has actually reduced the recidivism rate, he said.

Hoffman argued that if criminals serve longer sentences, "maybe they will be less likely to commit crimes that send them back to prison."

Becker said the state's adult prison system is at 65 percent above capacity, the highest ratio of overcrowding of any state in the nation, with 38,000 inmates crammed into facilities built for 24,000.

The department projected the truth-in-sentencing legislation passed by Hoffman would cut another 43,000 inmates within the next decade, requiring another $7 billion to be spent on prison construction and operation.

Hoffman said the forecast is exaggerated, citing a projection last year of less than $2 billion by Cook County State's Attorney Jack O'Malley.

Democrats called "toothless" a Republican-sponsored crime bill to make prison sentences longer that passed the House last month. Backed by Attorney General Jim Ryan, the measure requires first-degree murderers to serve 100 percent of their sentences and a minimum of 85 percent for about 15 other violent crimes.

Hoffman contended the bill, which is pending in the Senate, did not go nearly far enough. He sponsored a bill last year applying to all felons that passed the House but died in the Senate.

Not including such crimes as second-degree murder, arson and residential burglary among those subject to the 85 percent minimum "is absolutely unconscionable," Hoffman has said.

Michael Mahoney, executive director of the John Howard Association, a 95-year-old prison reform group based in Chicago, contended the Legislature has failed to pursue realistic ways to reduce recidivism.

He cited a growing waiting list of more than 6,000 inmates who want to enroll in education programs, as well as a prison industries program that only employs about 2 percent of inmates.

Idleness leads to tension and violence and discourages successful re-entry into society, Mahoney said.

"Drug programs also are substantially inadequate and many repeat criminals have drug problems that are never addressed," Mahoney said. He also suggested it's time to think about alternative sentencing programs for people convicted of possessing small amounts of drugs.

"We need to recognize that truth-in-sentencing is no more than political rhetoric and we need to start looking at getting judges more discretion for less serious offenders," he said. "We also need to target some groups of offenders to handle differently, such as minor drug offenders and older inmates who have served a long time and are no longer a risk, with other kinds of sanctions than prison."

"That way we could reserve the prison space for the more violent and repeat offenders, but that is going to take some political courage by both the Legislature and the governor, and that courage doesn't seem to be there."

Where can you find the best cup of coffee?

We're asking readers of the Granite City Press-Record and Granite City Journal to tell us where we can find the area's best cup of coffee.

On Thursday, June 8, we will debut a new feature in the Press-Record called "Best bet."

Once a month, we will run a photo and short story on the best of the Granite City area — for example, the best barber, best bus driver or best hamburger as picked by our readers.

Voting will begin tonight for the Best Cup of Coffee. To vote, call 877-7790 and ask for Dawn. Votes will be accepted between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on weekdays, through 5 p.m. Thursday, June 8.

We'll compile the votes, and readers will be able to find out which diner, restaurant, or res which kitchen they selected the place where the area's best cup of coffee can be found by picking up the June 8 issue of the Granite City Press-Record.

'Bears' vs. 'Preachers' in basketball benefit

Officers from the Granite City Police Department, better known as the "Sturdy-Built Bears," are favorites to win over the "Long-Winded Preachers" in a benefit softball game to be held at 7 p.m. Saturday, June 3, at diamond eight in Wilson Park.

The game, sponsored by the Granite City Ministerial Alliance, is to raise money for the Phoenix Crisis Center, the local shelter for abused women and their children. Adults tickets are $5; children are admitted free.

Police Chief Dave Ruebhausen remains his troops are ready to make an on the field, but added, "I just hope they don't call on us during intervention when we get down to the last inning."

However, it appears that the local area ministers are indeed hoping for some heavenly assistance.

"A little help from angels in the outfield wouldn't hurt if the highly ranked Bears are to be defeated," confessed the Rev. Max Wood. He recalled a line from the old song "The Preacher and the Bear": "Lord, if you can't help me, please don't help that bear."

The roster of preachers includes: the Rev. Bob Minor; the Rev. Bobby Samuel; the Rev. Carrie Cullen; the Rev. Jeff Hurst and son, Jeremy; the Rev. Elwyn Wilkinson; the Rev. Robert Carter; the Rev. Michael Davis; the Rev. Rose Hermanot; the Rev. Bruce Rushing; the Rev. Jerry Cowin; the Rev. Tim Miller; the Rev. Steve Hurd; the Rev. Lewis Trotter; and the Rev. Max Wood.

Jeff Luehmann has volunteered to umpire this local championship game.

Tickets may be purchased from any of the players, Phoenix Crisis Center personnel, at Jessica's Cottage or the Hospice of Madison County. Tickets will also be available at the gate. All of the proceeds will be given to the Phoenix Crisis Center.

Shrine Circus Parade to step off tonight

More than 100 units, including at least three bands, several marching units, an elephant and a lion are expected to participate in the annual Shrine Circus Parade tonight in Granite City.

"The 1995 Ainsel Temple Shrine Parade will be the biggest and best in years," parade Co-chairman John Apperson said.

The parade will step off in front of City Hall at 7:30 p.m. The procession will follow Niedringhaus Avenue to Madison Avenue and flow north, concluding at Granite City High School.

"We used to cut off at 27th Street and proceed to the back parking lot at the high school," Apperson said.

"But this year we've extended the route on Madison Avenue so more people will be able to see the parade and so we don't have to block off so many side streets," he said.

Co-chairman Dan Brown said the Precision Lawn Chair Drill Team from St. Louis, always a crowd favorite; an elephant and a lion; and a large contingent of police DARE units will participate in addition to the high-stepping Shrine units and smiling clowns.

"We should have well over 100 units in the parade," Brown said.

Police Chief Dave Ruebhausen said parking on Madison Avenue will be prohibited today, Wednesday, to accommodate the parade, to help spectators get a good view and for safety.

The purpose of the annual parade is to promote the Shrine Circus, to be held June 2-5 under the Big Top at the Ainsel Temple Mart on Highway 50 in O'Fallon. Tickets to the circus cost $6 each and admit one adult or two children.

The parade, of course, is free.

Belleville Area College graduates its largest class

By Bonita Tillman
Staff writer

Belleville Area College graduated its largest class in the college's history this spring, and President Joseph Cipri said it's because the college has a lot to offer.

"It's an indication of the quality of the instructional experience that students receive here," he said. "That's the primary factor."

More than 1,400 students received some kind of degree from the college, but 326 actually marched during graduation ceremonies last week.

The college is a convenience for students in both St. Clair and Madison counties with campuses in Belleville, Granite City and Red Bud and 22 extension centers at various other sites in the area, Cipri said.

And it provides a good value for the money, he added. "I think we'll continue to see the emergence of the role of community colleges in education," Cipri said.

As the economy grows, Cipri believes more people will see that continued job training is a necessity and that they must return to college for various courses throughout their careers.

Chris Richeson

Richeson receives academic honors

Chris Richeson of Granite City received the Outstanding Student in Foreign Languages Award, the Outstanding Latin Student Award and the Outstanding Greek Student Award at the 1995 academic honors awards assembly April 6 at Northeast Missouri State University in Kirksville. Outstanding students traditionally are recognized at the annual assembly.

Richeson is a senior majoring in classics. He is the son of Marion and Francis Richeson. While attending Northeast, Richeson has been the captain of the College Bowl team and a member of Phi Kappa Phi (national academic honor society) and Pi Kappa Lambda (national music honor society). Northeast Missouri State University is the statewide public liberal arts and sciences university for Missouri.

Students of Month —

Eighth-grade Student of the Month for April at Coolidge Junior High School is Ben Temple, top, son of Pamela Hardy; seventh-grade Student of the Month for April is Sarah Burris, above, daughter of Douglas and Tracy Burris.

The Student of the Month program was designed to honor those students who demonstrate exemplary conduct in academics, behavior, attendance, citizenship and school pride.

The college has boasted about serving more adult students than those just graduating from high school. But Cipri said BAC also has its largest group of "traditional students," those ages 18-20, in its history as well. The average age of a BAC student is 31.

Although some of the success has been natural, Cipri said the college has been aggressively marketed so that people are proud to attend and the college now offers a "guarantee" to students who plan to transfer to other colleges.

The program, implemented in January, guarantees that every credit hour taken by a BAC student will transfer to a four-year university or their money will be refunded.

The college also will retrain a former student, at no cost to the employer, if that person who does not meet qualifications for a job after graduation from a BAC program, Cipri said.

"If there's a defect that exists, we're there to take care of it. We've put the guarantee behind the education," he added.

The college was cited for both its excellence in workforce preparation and the community college with the best student outcome and accountability in the state last year.

"People are seeking us out," Cipri said. Despite the success and high graduation list, Cipri said BAC enrollment is actually down by five percent this academic year.

Tips on the use of

Garden Color

from the experts at

FRANK'S

Back last June we mentioned many ways to make good use of color in the garden, according to information from the National Garden Bureau. They have more on the subject. After all, proper use of color can turn an ordinary garden into a dazzling display you'll be proud of.

Here are some helpful hints we found in the National Garden Bureau's May, 1995 newsletter.

When planning a garden, think of it as a three-dimensional painting, and the colorful annuals for beds and containers as colors on an artist's palette. Some colors will dominate and be spread with broad brush strokes here, while other colors will give depth and dimension with small dabs here and there. Try to envision the whole panorama of your garden as you want it to look when it is at its best, and plan accordingly.

To brighten shady areas, use light-colored annuals. Dark colors tend to get lost in shady areas. You can still use deep colors in a shady area, but be sure to use lighter colors around or behind them to provide contrast. Burgundy is surrounded by pale green coleus or coral impatiens, for example, will stand out due to the contrast.

For maximum effect, think about how the colors will blend or contrast with their surroundings. For example, deep red geraniums or red salvia planted against a red brick or redwood fence will not stand out as well as white or pink geraniums. And white geraniums will not stand out against a white background.

Use three or four colors as a theme. The colors, used with repetition, will unify different garden areas. For example, bordering all your garden plots with a row of yellow marigolds or creamy petunias can tie different garden areas together for a unified look. Repeating the same colors but in different plant types can create the same effect. If white and blue are your colors, plant different types of flowers such as lavender, blue petunias and blue salvia.

Each area of your garden should have a focal point, just as each room in your house should. If there isn't a natural focal point, you can create one with color. Instead of long, uninterrupted rows of flowers, create a focal point by planting a mass of one color in the center of a bed and then surround it with flowers or plants that contrast in color, texture or height. If there is something unsightly in your garden that you can't get rid of or hide, such as a utility pole or fire hydrant, create a colorful focal point away from the object to draw attention to it instead of the problem area.

Colors affect our emotions. Bright colors such as red and yellow are exciting colors, and they're often called warm or hot. Blue, lavender, green, pink and peach are considered, cool, calm colors. For the entrance to a home, you may wish to create a feeling of warmth and excitement, and choose strong, exciting colors such as yellow marigolds and scarlet dianthus. To create a more relaxing and serene mood in your backyard garden, choose soft pastel colors.

With so many colors to choose from nowadays, creating a colorful, fresh new look in your garden is easier than ever. Why not give it a try?

Profile:

Nelson "Nellie" Hagnauer

Birthplace: Granite City

Occupation: Madison County Board Chairman

Hobbies: Going fishing with my 10-year old granddaughter.

Biggest accomplishment: I was elected to the Illinois Softball Hall of Fame in 1980. That, and all the friends I've made.

Biggest disappointment: I haven't really had any. I've had a pretty good life.

Most admired person: First, my wife and family members; second is Harry Truman.

Favorite quote: "Don't ever forget where you came from."

Favorite TV show: Matlock.

On my day off, I: Relax on the sofa and watch TV.

Favorite food: Fried chicken.

the North Granite area ($200,000).

The city's CDBG allocation is considerably smaller than in past years. Housing Rehabilitation Coordinator Dave Williams said the reduction is a result of a reduction in spending by the federal government.

In other action last week, the City Council approved a $10,000 loan to Sharon Van Meter, owner of Jessica's Cottage restaurant in East Granite, to open a restaurant at 1304 and 1308A Niedringhaus Ave., located between Violets and Vinery and State Rep. Tom Holbrook's office in the downtown area.

The loan was approved under the city's revolving assistance loan program targeting the downtown tax increment finance district.

The terms of the loan require repayment in 59 months at a 3 percent interest rate. Interest will be rebated if the loan is repaid in three years.

need to take care of done."

While the business of county government is time-consuming, Hagnauer said he never had second thoughts about his career.

"I take a vacation here and there, and I still get to be at home to see my family," Hagnauer said. "But one of the best parts about this job is the friends I've made. I'm surrounded by a lot of good people."

While he has entertained thoughts of retirement in recent years, Hagnauer said he still plans to run for re-election when his term expires in 1998.

"I've been fortunate enough to have pretty good health, so that's not a concern," Hagnauer said. "I want to be around for the completion of the jail renovation and the construction of the Madison County Transit station in Edwardsville, but I think that will be it."

"I think in the 40 years I've been a public official there have been only about five days where I didn't want to get up and go to work," Hagnauer said. "But my granddaughter thinks I need to spend a little more time fishing with her."

Drive through — James E. Moss of Washington Park makes a phone call after losing control of his pickup truck and smashing through the front windows of 7-Eleven Thursday afternoon. The front end of Moss's truck came to a rest just inside the store. The accident at the store, located at 1207 Niedringhaus Ave., occurred at 4:18 p.m. on Thursday. Moss' 1972 Chevrolet F100 pulled into the parking lot and then drove through the front window and brick wall. Passengers included Jessie Ratcliff Jr., 35, of East St. Louis; Carl G. Anderson Jr., 33, of Fairmont City; and Oliver W. Tate Jr., 32, of Fairmont City. Moss, 27, was issued citations for driving without a license, driving without proof of insurance and improper use of registration or title.

the project was under way, causing churches and residents in the construction area to complain that the project was inconvenient.

Many of the businesses in the construction area complained that the project prevented customer access — to the point where some businesses completely shut down.

Many side streets along the detour route, not designed for heavy traffic, were torn up as a result.

Phase II of the project

The grandmother said she repeatedly contacted Crouch and left messages with "Operator Two" at the police department.

Crouch testified that he never received the messages and identified Kuehnel as "Operator Two."

The grandmother said she finally contacted Susan Jensen at the State's Attorney's office, who in turn contacted Crouch and an investigation was initiated in May 1993.

The daughter, who ran away from home after leaving the alleged note, turned herself in to police the day after she left home and told police she had left a note.

The prosecution concluded its case Thursday afternoon.

The trial is expected to wrap up this week.

resulting in an additional $25,000 in revenue, Logas said. In other action Tuesday night, the school board approved extending the school calendar, shortened last month because of unused emergency days, by two days to make up for days missed last week because of flooding.

The board also approved full-day kindergarten for each of the nine elementary schools in the district next year. Under the plan, parents will still have the option to send their children for half a day.

In a related move, the board approved a transition from the current learning center structure in elementary buildings to a technology delivery system. The move will allow the district to use space currently reserved for learning centers for additional classrooms next year.

The board also approved expenditure of $28,329 in Chapter II grant funds to purchase 21 Macintosh LC580 computers for use in the middle schools next year.

Rekowski begins his 10th term

Madison County Public Defender John Rekowski was sworn in recently to his 10th year term in office.

Rekowski, a former Collinsville resident, lives in Glen Carbon. Chief Judge Edward C. Ferguson, who did the swearing in, said, "The vote of the circuit judges was unanimous for reappointment."

"The office runs well and provides a valuable service to the court and the community as well as to its individual clients," said Rekowski. "The confidence in that office's abilities," Ferguson said.

The office of the Public Defender provides legal representation to those people who cannot afford an attorney and are charged with a criminal offense.

In addition, the office also represents minor children who are neglected or abused. With a caseload of over 1,000 felonies and 8,000 to 10,000 misdemeanors and juvenile cases, the amount of legal representation the office provides is enormous.

Rekowski is a graduate of St. Edwards University and received his juris doctor cum laude from St. Louis University. He served as an assistant public defender from his admission to the bar in 1979 until his appointment as chief public defender in 1988.

He is also engaged in the private practice of law under the name Rekowski and Associates in Collinsville.

He has served as president of the Illinois Public Defender's Association since 1991. He is currently serving a six-year term as a member of the Board of Commissioners of the Office of the State Appellate Defender.

As a member of the American, Illinois, and Madison County Bar Associations, the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers, and the Illinois Attorneys for Criminal Justice, he has testified on numerous criminal justice bills before the General Assembly.

Rekowski and his wife Carol have two daughters, Jean and Elizabeth.

includes replacing the heavily-traveled, pot-hole marred road surface from Wabash Avenue to Maryville Road; widening the road in several spots; adding curbs, gutters and other drainage improvements; and replacing sidewalks.

The road will be open only to local traffic during construction. Through traffic will be diverted to side roads.

A public information meeting, where residents and area businesses can express their concerns regarding the project, will be held in the next two to four weeks, Hales said.

In Phase II, the existing two-lane road will be widened to provide wide for parking lanes on each side of the street. Existing stop signs on Pontoon Road at Franklin Avenue will be removed. Other stop signs will remain in place and an existing crosswalk signal at St. Elizabeth's school and church will be reconstructed.

In conjunction with the project, left and right turn lanes will be added to Johnson Road at its intersection with Pontoon Road, designed to make traffic flow more smoothly there.

The city will pay $250,000 of the $1.5 million project costs. Madison County will pay $300,000, with the remainder to be picked up by the federal highway administration.

Ritual team initiates new member

Eagles Auxiliary 1126 Ritual Team initiated one new member, Theresa M. Warren, at the second meeting of the May. The ritual team consisted of Vera Johnson, president; Joanna Spencer, past junior president; Billie Schuler, past teen vice president; and Emelia "Millie" Weatherford, chaplain.

The regular meeting was opened by Ann Pates, president, and the Pledge of Allegiance was given by 26 members in attendance.

The roll call of officers was taken. The secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved. The secretary then read three new applications and the membership chairman reviewed pending applications that will be initiated in June.

Correspondence was read from Mary Lou Wilkinson, a former member, who has taken up residence in Colorado.

Thank-you notes were read from Jean Seper, co-chairman of the Southern Zone; Del Deloney, auxiliary mother; and Puz Hagnauer, Aerie grandmother.

Sharon Piest, state membership chairman, sent information and requirements for those members and visitors who will be attending the membership luncheon at the state convention in June.

Reservations will be taken by the secretary for those wishing to preregister to attend the prayer breakfast and banquet. Contact Vincine Zerlan for more information.

A moment of silent prayer was held for the victims of the Oklahoma disaster and the recent flood victims.

A $100 donation will be given to the OATH organization in Madison for equipment that was recently vandalized. This equipment is used by the Specialized Services to aid people in doing laundry and many other services.

Sympathy cards were sent to Dorothy Robles, who recently lost her mother, and Ilene Carr, who recently lost her nephew and her sister. It was also reported that Robles' husband was back in the hospital.

Evalene Ederle, bingo chairman, gave her report for the past month and it was approved by the membership.

A Father's Day dinner is being planned to honor all Aerie fathers at 6:30 p.m. June 14 at the Eagles home, 2558 Madison Ave. in Granite City. The auxiliary will prepare and serve the meal. Anyone wishing to help cook or serve should contact Jean Venne.

The secretary read a list of members who are 40- and 50-year members. It was erroneously reported that Angie Buehler was a 15-year member. She is a 50-year member, as of May 24.

Ruth Jorgensen returned from her vacation from Norway and shared some of the money-making tips she learned from the Norwegians, especially a style show.

On June 2, there will be a rehearsal of officers for the installation on June 3. The rehearsal will follow the Aerie fish fry on Friday. The installation will be held at 4 p.m. June 3. Members and guests will be invited to a dinner following the installation. There will be entertainment and music following the dinner. Contact Spencer for more information.

Pates had the conductor escort all officers and chairman to the altar and presented each with a gift for the services rendered in her year. She also presented Kathleen Benda with a going-away gift. She will be moving to Minnesota in June.

Prizes were won by Vincine Zerlan and Delores Sanders. A social hour and refreshments were served following the meeting.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. June 13. A meeting for the 1995-96 officers will be held June 4.

Those attending the May meeting were Sue Allen, Kathleen Benda, Angie Buehler, Mildred Boyd, Nanette Bladdick, Elvira Glas, Del Deloney, Evalene Ederle, Florence "Fuzz" Hagnauer, Vera Johnson, Ruth Jorgensen, Delores "Dee" Klesh, Catherine Kostoff, Liz Moore, Carol Miller, Hilda Melton, Helen Mih, Barbara Modrusic, Ann Pates, Joanna Spencer, Delores "Dee" Sanders, Martha Simpson, Billie Schuler, Millie Weatherford, Sherri Wilson and Vincine Zerlan.

Owners may request property reassessments

Madison County residents whose homes were damaged by the Flood of 1995 may apply to have their property reassessed.

Gov. Jim Edgar has declared Madison County a major disaster area as a result of flooding caused by heavy rains. By law, property assessment officials are required to reassess damaged property in disaster areas if requested by the property owner.

Madison County Supervisor of Assessments Bob Harris said last week that applications for a reassessment of flood-damaged property must be filed as soon as possible.

"The applications can be picked up at the township assessor's office," Harris said.

Any assessment change will be for the 1995 tax year and will show up on tax bills payable in 1996, Granite City Township Assessor Darlene Laub said.

Lady Warriors

coach Dave Ames said. "This is a real big win for our program. It's a good group. If anything, I think maybe we were an unknown factor."

The Lady Warriors asserted themselves loud and clear with Monday's win, which preceded another upset. Springfield provided a follow-up with a 2-1 victory over Collinsville.

The Lady Warriors and the second-seeded Lady Kahoks were expected to meet in the sectional title game for the second straight year and the fifth time in the past seven years. Instead, Collinsville finished 12-9-2 and Granite City saw its season end without a chance to advance to state for the third straight year.

"This really has been a tough year for them with the injuries and everything else," Ames said. "They were missing some key people. But I have to give our kids credit. They just came in to play."

In addition to the season-long absence of senior forwards Holly Farnsworth and Penny Kreher, the Lady Warriors had two regulars out of the lineup against O'Fallon: junior goalie Marcie Holsinger and senior defender Kara Gauen. Playing shorthanded, however, had little effect on the Lady Warriors, who dominated much of the contest Saturday and Sunday.

"I think we dominated the game, clearly," GCHS coach Gene Baker said. "It's been a very frustrating season. But I want nothing to take away from O'Fallon's game. If there's someone I'm going to lose to, I'd rather it be (Ames) than anyone. I'm happy for him."

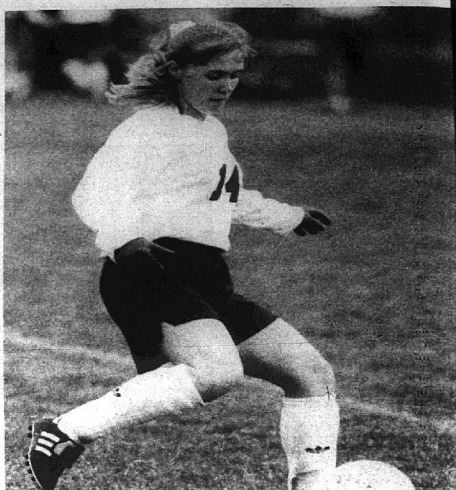

Ames, Baker's longtime assistant with the Granite City boys soccer team, said the Panthers were hoping to survive the long layoff forced by Saturday's postponement. O'Fallon overcame a barrage of scoring chances by the Lady Warriors on Monday to register a stunning shutout.

"I really didn't know how that would affect us," Ames said. "I just talked to them and tried to get their mindset right."

Albrecht gave O'Fallon the lead on Saturday at 17:22 on a goal off a restart. A foul just outside the box gave the Panthers a free kick from 20 yards out, and Albrecht converted with a hard shot to the right of Roth.

Play was halted just over five minutes later. The Lady Warriors had several opportunities to score Saturday, and they picked up where they left off early in the action Monday.

O'Fallon turned aside shots by Simpson and Jennifer Splaingard before facing heavy pressure by the Lady Warriors in the final minutes of the first half. With 3:49 left, Splaingard hit the crossbar with a shot that rebounded in front to Simpson, who shot just wide of the right post.

Staci Dowdy made several runs early in the second half before Simpson came just short of scoring on a shot that angled through the goalmouth.

But each time GCHS appeared certain to score, the Panthers came away unscathed.

"They did put some pressure on us," Ames said. "In games like this, I don't think there's any question you have to have a little luck."

Dowdy and Amy Henson made several more drives in the final 20 minutes before Albrecht's decisive PK. Roth came out to meet Young on a breakaway, which resulted in both a PK and a red card for the freshman goalie.

Baker took exception with the call, as well as the lack of a call on O'Fallon's apparent handball in the box earlier in the half and several other restarts.

"She didn't touch anybody," Baker said of Roth. "Official Joe Heyden told her that she prevented (Young) from an opportunity to score, which is basically what is called defense. In this type of game, I try not to referee as a coach but these referees are coaching. It's been calls by these same officials that we've seen all the time."

Baker said he was also upset with the officials at halftime, when the crew was missing at the end of intermission. "We had a 10-minute (half-time) break rather than a five-minute break, and we had to wait for the officials to get back on the field," Baker said. "We had to make an announcement."

It was a long game in more ways than one for the Lady Warriors, who saw their season come to a difficult end. GCHS began the year 7-1 but lost several key players to injuries during the stretch and dropped three of its last five games.

The Lady Warriors' loss, combined with Collinsville's setback, marks the first time that neither team will represent southern Illinois at the state tournament.

The sectional title game was scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday night, with the winner advancing to the state quarterfinals Friday at Hoffman Estates Conant.

Golf tourney
The Granite City Optimist Club will hold a junior golf tournament June 4 at the Legacy Golf Course. Entries are now being taken for the tournament, which is open to boys and girls who will not have turned 18 years of age by July 21, 1995.

Trophies will be awarded for first, second, third and fourth place in both boys and girls divisions. First and second-place finishers will also have their entry fees covered as they advance to the Illinois District Tournament, which will be held June 14-16 at Lake Shore Golf Course in Taylorville.

For more information, call Linda Vaughn at 452-2174.

Volleyball clinics
The 1995 Granite City High School summer volleyball clinics will be held June 12-16 at GCHS.

There will be two clinics. The high school clinic, open to players attending GCHS this fall, will be held 9 a.m.-noon and 1:30-3:30 p.m. June 12-14 at Memorial Gymnasium. The final session, June 15, will consist of tournament play in the afternoon only.

The high school clinic will be directed by Nancy Mueller, the assistant volleyball coach at Iowa State University. Mueller is a former Division I volleyball player who played at the University of Tennessee and will be assisted by several other current or former Division I athletes.

The cost is $75 per person and includes instruction, T-shirt and clinic insurance. Registration will be accepted until the first day of the clinic but must be received by June 1 to guarantee a T-shirt. All participants must have proof of a current physical exam.

Registration forms for the clinic are now available and can be obtained by calling 452-9294. The junior high clinic, for boys and girls entering grades 5-8 this fall, will be held 9:30 a.m.-noon and 1:30-4 p.m. June 15-16. The clinic will be conducted by GCHS volleyball coach Cindy Gagliardi.

The cost is $25. Registration is now being taken and will be accepted until the first day of the clinic but must be received by June 1 to guarantee a T-shirt. All participants must have proof of a current physical exam.

Registration forms can be obtained by calling 452-9294.

Soccer camp
Applications are now being taken for Granite City soccer camp. The camp will be held June 12-16 at Granite City High School, is open to boys and girls ages 7-18. Instruction will be provided by college players and high school coaches. The camp will begin at 9 a.m. June 12 and will follow a daily schedule from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. through June 16. The camp will be divided into periods of technical training, individual skills competition, instructional game film and tactical training sessions and competitive games.

The cost is $70 per camper, with family and team rates available. For more information, call Baker at (314) 353-2374 or 451-5808.

Coaches needed
Experienced male and female soccer coaches are needed for St. Louis-area select soccer teams. Several positions are available in different age groups for both boys and girls development (U-8 through U-10) through U-19.

Candidates should send a mini-resume with soccer experience to: P.O. Box 2285, Florissant, Mo., 63032-2285.

Troyut camp
The Cincinnati Reds will hold a troyut baseball camp June 10 at the VFW field in Highland.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. All American Legion players must bring written permission from their local commander or manager, and any players under 21 must have a written release from a parent or legal guardian accepting full legal liability in order to work out.

SIUE offers camps
Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is offering baseball and softball camps for youths at two experience levels.

The baseball fundamentals camp, for ages 7-13, is scheduled June 12-16 from 9-11:30 a.m. The cost is $65. The baseball advanced camp, for ages 10-18, will be held June 19-22, from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. The cost is $100. Youths may participate in both camps for $150.

The softball camps are for youths in the sixth through 12th grades. The fundamentals camp is June 15 and 16, from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. The cost is $50, which includes:

The softball pitching camp, June 12-14, offers two sessions: beginners, 9:30-11:30 a.m., and advanced, 1-3 p.m. The cost is $45 per person.

The camps are scheduled as scheduled at SIUE's athletic facilities. For information call 692-2660.

SIUE soccer camps
Four soccer camps for youths are scheduled at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in July and August.

The camps offer extensive coaching and training as well as opportunities to learn new skills and participate in competitions.

A fundamentals camp for high school ages is scheduled 6-8 p.m., July 24-28. The cost is $45. A high school goalkeeper camp is scheduled at the same time. The cost is $70.

For youth, ages 7-13, camps will be offered from 6-8 p.m., July 31-Aug. 4, with separate sessions for fundamentals and goalkeepers. Each session is $45. For additional information call 692-2660.

Chris Fiala kept the Tigers at bay, pitching scoreless ball in the sixth and seventh innings while allowing only two hits. Yet, down the stretch, Dougherty slammed the door on any comeback hopes by Granite City. Dougherty did not allow a hit in the final two frames and struck out the side in the sixth. Although Lignoul did not want to make excuses, he did say Tieman's three-week layoff because of grade trouble probably had a negative effect on his pitching performance. "He didn't have the same velocity or his best curveball," Lignoul said. "He was not as good as he could have been." But Lignoul said it was not just Tieman who was not sharp. He said that as a team, Granite City did not execute as well as it could have. "We could have handled the ball better, the pitchers could have done better and we didn't get the clutch hitting we needed," Lignoul said. On the other hand, Edwardsville coach Tom Fie was happy with the victory.

"The kids started off a little nervous," Fie said. "Overall, we executed some things, and anytime we win, we're pleased." Lignoul also said the pressure of playing in a regional game could have had an effect on the Warriors in the opening frame. He did admit that his team should have been prepared, especially since the Warriors played Edwardsville in the regular season. "We've been preparing all year for this, but we played like we were nervous in the first inning," Lignoul said. "It is disheartening to end the season like this because we know we're a better team than we showed today. But we have to give Edwardsville credit, and the best team won."

The semifinals were moved to Monday because of a rainstorm advanced to the semifinals with a 2-0 victory over Civic Memorial last Friday. Edwardsville was scheduled to play Jerseyville, which defeated Wood River 2-1 Monday, in the regional championship game Tuesday. The winner advances to this weekend's Centralia Sectional at Kaskaskia College.

Tri-City Speedway, Hooters aid area flood relief

The Chouteau Township Flood Relief effort grew a little richer recently, thanks to generous race fans. A 50-50 raffle held at Tri-City Speedway on May 20 raised $500 for the flood relief effort. Tri-City owner Bob Wentz said.

Chouteau Township's flood relief effort, since the remaining half of the raffle jackpot was rounded out to an even $500 from Tri-City Speedway owner Bob Wentz's own pocket. "It makes me feel good that our fans reached out and helped the many people, some of whom live just across from the speedway, in their time of need," Wentz said. "The proceeds from tonight's raffle will be turned over to Chouteau Township Supervisor Pat Polley this week." The raffle was held in conjunction with Tri-City Speedway, Debbie Van Laningham, promotions manager for Hooters restaurants, and representatives of the four Hooters Restaurants in St. Louis.

Society gets $25,000, will complete shelter

By Scott Wuerz
Staff writer

A $25,000 grant will make a dream finally come true for Madison County Humane Society officials.

Society President Ledy Van Kavage said the organization received the donation last week from the Marguerite Doe Foundation of Santa Barbara, Calif., and the money will be used to complete its long-awaited animal shelter on State Highway 143 in Edwardsville.

"We applied for the grant in the fall of 1994, and it was a pretty extensive process," Van Kavage said. "We're really grateful to get the funding, because it should put us over the top of what we needed to get the new building open."

The Humane Society currently shares space with the Madison County Animal Control Department. The society began collecting funds for a new building in 1988 because of space constraints and other problems.

Two of the top reasons the Humane Society needs a new building, said employee Pat Jones are: First, the Animal Control Department does not keep evening hours, limiting the time families could come to the Humane Society to view pets for possible adoptions. Second, the Animal Control building is cramped and dreary, and the depressing atmosphere keeps away would-be adopters.

Jones said the lack of space means the Humane Society must keep fewer animals than it would like for a shorter period of time than it would like.

While the Humane Society now has the money it needs to complete the outer shell of the building, it is still looking for help to pay for needed interior furnishings.

The Humane Society has sold puppy and cat cages and dog runs to try to raise money to pay for those items.

All the needed puppy cages have been sponsored, but more cat cages and dog runs are needed. A cat cage may be sponsored for $300, while a dog run costs $1,200, Van Kavage said.

At Alton Memorial Hospital, we know the healthiest route to parenthood puts you on the right track even before you're pregnant.

Our care begins with a free pregnancy health appraisal. This written questionnaire will be reviewed by an OB nurse who'll then discuss it with you and recommend steps to help ensure your healthy pregnancy and baby. We can also provide referrals to experienced obstetricians.

Once you're pregnant, take advantage of our early pregnancy, childbirth preparation and parenting classes. Join our Rock A Bye Club to receive monthly newsletters and valuable discount coupons. Our staff is highly trained, caring and compassionate. We are here to educate and support you during your birthing experience and beyond.

Once you and your baby are home, a registered nurse will do a follow-up visit to answer any questions you have and to make sure you're both doing well.

Lively Taste

'Supertasters' experience foods with heightened awareness. Check whether 'picky' eaters really have extra-sensitive taste buds. Punch a hole in the middle of a 1-inch square of waxed paper. Place the hole on the tip of the tongue. Swish blue food coloring on the exposed part of the tongue. Using a magnifying glass and flashlight, count the fungiform papillae (pinkish circles). The person with the most of these taste receptors is more likely to be a supertaster. Source: 'Food Insight,' International Food Information Council.

Health & Fitness

Medicine Chest

Simple procedures keep scrapes and cuts from becoming infected. INSIDE

Fresh Picks

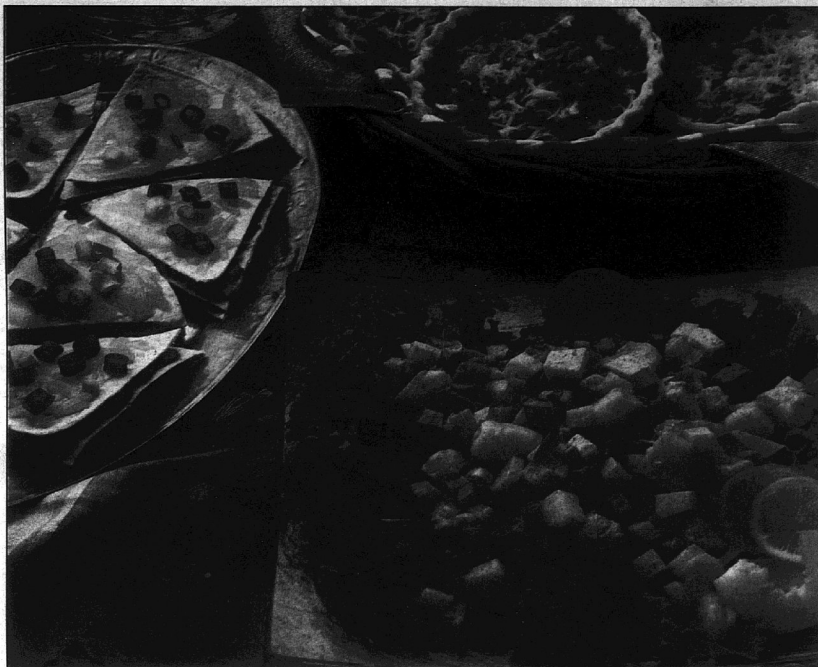

Feast on fresh fruit topped with ever-changing berry sauce. Wash 1 pint berries — strawberries, blueberries, raspberries, blackberries. Puree in a food processor or blender. Pour into strainer over a saucepan, press puree through and discard residue in strainer. Stir in 2 tablespoons sugar until dissolved. Dissolve 1/2 teaspoon cornstarch in 1-1/2 teaspoons water. Stir into puree. Over medium-low heat, cook and stir until mixture thickens and boils. Boil 1 minute. Can be refrigerated up to 1 day before using. Pour over fresh fruit, such as cantaloupe, plums, peaches, nectarines, apricots or cherries.

Big Fat Tip

A single doughnut has about 15 grams fat and falls into the 'others' category of foods without supplying a serving from any nutritious food group. Alternatives are a bagel with about 2 grams fat and an English muffin with 1 to 2 grams fat and credit in the grains group for either. For extra flavor, jam or jelly adds no fat, 1 tablespoon regular cream cheese contributes 10 grams fat and 1 tablespoon margarine tops out with 11 grams fat.

Future Shop

Beef will be raked over the coals this summer because it will be attractively priced to buy. Supplies are at their highest level since 1977, which translates into an extra 1,000 truckloads of beef a week.

Spicy Spark Plugs

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

Like a car that won't go anywhere without spark from its plugs, food that lacks ignition falls flat.

Fuel may be in the tank and ingredients assembled in proper order, but that little charge that produces high-voltage flavor gives food the combustion that moves it away from being a refrigerator spectacle.

Williams Seasonings asked entrants in the Great American Chili Contest to use its chili seasoning in non-chili summer recipes. Results were as different as a Hyundai from a Saab. The grand champion, Southwestern Shrimp Salad, came from Texas. Tortilla Torte, the winner from Missouri, was submitted by Rita Kay Fleischmann of Columbia.

If these recipes don't spice up a joy ride, turn to Pop 'n' Hot, the Oklahoma favorite. Just combine 1 package chili seasoning (Cajun-flavored preferred), 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 teaspoon cayenne pepper. Pop 2 packages butter-flavor microwave popcorn. In serving bowl, immediately sprinkle hot popped corn with seasoning mixture and toss to coat evenly. Serve

Kids' Cuisine POUND CAKE BURGERS

Using a 16-ounce family-size pound cake, a 13-year-old from California won $5,000 from Sara Lee for making two Pound Cake Burgers. Here is her method:

1. Slice cake horizontally in three equal layers. Cut 6 circles, using 3-3/4-inch frosting lid or cookie cutter as guide.

2. Cut remaining cake in pieces 1/2-inch thick to resemble french fries, which can be browned lightly in toaster oven. Sprinkle with granulated sugar.

3. For burgers, frost 2 round pieces of cake with chocolate frosting.

4. Turn over top buns before frosting. Spread white frosting to resemble mayonnaise on top and bottom buns. Add red food coloring to 1/4 cup white frosting to resemble ketchup. Spread over white frosting.

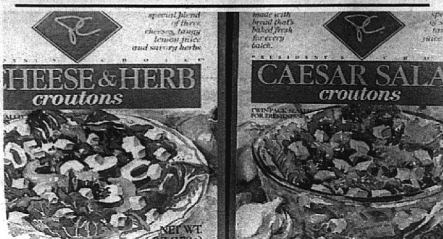

5. Place chocolate burgers on bottom cake buns. Tint 1/4 cup coconut green for lettuce. Sprinkle on burgers. Add top bun frost-side down. Glaze bun tops with 2 tablespoons softened honey and sprinkle with 1 teaspoon sesame seeds.

6. Arrange burgers and fries on plate. Add dollop of red-frosting ketchup near fries.

Private Label Test Run

Croutons make salad more flavorful and provide a crunchy snack by the handful.

Croutons promote salad crunch, zest

Some people like crunchy croutons in salad better than the greens. This Private Label Test Run's for you.

President's Choice croutons at National Super Markets come in several toasty flavors. Suburban Journal testers tried 3-cheese and herb, as well as Caesar salad, varieties. The product's claim the bread is "baked fresh for every batch" was echoed by one tester in particular. "Have you ever eaten a hard old crouton? These are the opposite of that. They come in two bags to keep them fresher longer," she said.

Others commented on the size of the croutons. "I like the small size," one said. Another added the size makes them "good for snacking, which is what my teenage son likes to do straight from the box in the pantry."

The price of $1.49 for President's Choice for a 6-ounce box is positioned with national brands that cost as much as $1.79.

Three-cheese and herb croutons got a solid endorsement for their zest. "They have both good cheese and nice spice flavor so you taste them twice," one taster said.

Another liked them for their "zippy lemon flavor. It makes them really different, almost like sourdough." The Caesar salad croutons got mixed reviews that ranged from love-'em to leave-'em.

"Initially the Caesar croutons did not have as pronounced a taste as the three-cheese ones, but after I ate several, I could taste a definite Italian dressing-like flavor. These would be a good alternative for the three-cheese, so you don't have to eat the same (spicy) flavor all the time," a taster said.

Another commented that the Caesar croutons had an inviting aroma.

Preventive action keeps cuts from turning serious

As days get warmer and outside activities increase, the likelihood of cuts and scrapes greatly increases. There are things every family can do to treat unpleasant injuries and prevent them from becoming more serious.

• If a cut or scrape occurs, the first thing to do is clean the wound thoroughly. Be careful not to scrub the affected area excessively, because this increases the risk of infection.

• Other factors can increase the likelihood of surface wound will become infected. They include excessive moisture, excessive heat, a tight bandage or exposure to an irritating substance or chemical.

• Before bandaging the area, apply a topical antibiotic to help prevent infection.

A few of the most effective products, found in most drug stores or supermarkets, are Neosporin, Polysporin and Triple Antibiotic Cream.

These over-the-counter treatments are most effective when applied regularly. A small amount of medication can be effective.

SOUTHWEST SHRIMP SALAD

- 1/2 cup sour cream
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 2 tsp. lime juice
- 1 pkg. (1 oz.) chili seasoning
- 1/4 tsp. cumin
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 lb. large shrimp in shells
- 2 green onions, sliced
- 2 red bell pepper, chopped
- 1/2 cup peeled, diced jicama,

or 1/2 cup chopped water chestnuts, drained

2. Squeeze fresh cilantro. Lettuce leaves. Sliced avocado, if desired. Slice lime if desired.

Combine sour cream, mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon lime juice, 2 tablespoons chili seasoning, cumin and garlic. Stir to blend well. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Cover. Refrigerate.

Combine remaining chili seasoning, remaining 1 tablespoon lime juice and 3 cups water in large saucepan. Season with salt, if desired. Cover. Bring to boil over high heat.

Micro Raves

Egg back for encore at breakfast

A favorite slogan for the edible egg calls it "incredible." That may be the case.

The egg is a high-class protein staple in many households. A main ingredient in many recipes, the egg often drops into a salad.

For a short time, cholesterol-conscious Americans shunned this versatile product, but recent research indicates the egg is not the health hazard it once seemed. While it contains a high amount of cholesterol, it does not seem to raise cholesterol levels in the blood. Like all foods, it should be eaten in moderation.

Consequently, the egg has regained favor on most American tables.

The egg is simple and quick to prepare. The addition of butter or margarine in cooking boosts considerably its modest 80 calories. The task of cooking an egg without extra fat is easier in a microwave oven than on a conventional stovetop.

Care should be taken to cook it at a lower microwave power level. Eggs, like cheese, are high-protein products. When cooked too rapidly, conventionally or by microwave, they become tough and rubbery.

To cook an individual scrambled egg in a microwave oven, mix the white and yolk slightly in a small glass dish, coated with non-stick cooking spray if desired. Cook on medium-high (70 percent) power about 45 seconds. The egg puffs and increases in volume. It gains a light and fluffy texture much like a soufflé.

When an egg sunny-side up is desired, crack it into a small glass dish. Because the yolk is tucked inside a membrane covering and can explode while cooking, the yolk should be pierced gently with a fork; it is not necessary to break it. Again, cook on medium-high (70 percent) power about 45 seconds. In recipes calling for chopped hard-cooked egg, cook 15 or 20 seconds longer and the egg is ready to use.

Of course, egg dishes are favorites for luncheon or brunch menus. They can be combined with seafood, meat, vegetables or cheese for a variety of combinations. Quiche is a mainstay at these meals.

A variation on quiche is "strata," which means "layer." A strata's top and bottom layers are made from bread.

In this recipe, bread slices are cut with a doughnut cutter to produce shapes that become a decorative top layer. There is no waste because bread scraps become a base in the bottom of the baking dish.

Ham and broccoli are used here but other combinations of meat and vegetable can be used.

Betty Serati specializes in microwave cooking.

Fish finds home in quick meal ideas

By KATIE DUGGAN

As June gallops this way, people look for meal ideas that are light yet satisfying. Fresh fish is worth the plunge.

Fish is increasingly available fresh in local supermarkets as its popularity as a healthy food choice grows. Most fish is naturally low in calories, saturated fat, sodium and a great source of protein, vitamins and minerals.

Fish is easy to prepare if you follow this simple rule of thumb: Cook fish by the inch.

Allow 10 minutes cooking time per inch at the fillet's thickest point. When cooking fish in foil or sauce, increase cooking time to 15 minutes per inch of thickness. Another convenience is that fish can go directly from freezer to oven, by just doubling cooking time to a full 20 minutes per inch.

Cooking is not the only important consideration when preparing seafood. Wash hands well before and after handling fish. Also, use clean, sanitized cutting boards clean to prevent cross-contamination of bacteria to other foods.

The most important consideration in food safety is cooking the fish fully. When fish is done, it is no longer translucent. It flakes easily with a fork.

Baking, poaching, steaming, broiling and grilling keep fish nutritious without adding a lot of fat.

If these fast-cooking methods are not quick enough, then let a microwave oven cook it to perfection. Using a covered microwave-safe dish keeps it moist. Cook on high power about three minutes per pound.

For a mile of flavor without adding an inch of fat, try these ideas:

• Instead of butter, drizzle fish with a tangy mixture of lemon juice and herbs. Try chopped parsley, thyme, basil, dill, tarragon or savory.

• Poach fish in a low-sodium bouillon for extra flavor.

• For a flair of the Southwest, baste fish before cooking with a mixture of the juice of 1 lime and 1 cup Mexican-style salsa.

• Cooking fish on an outdoor grill adds a hint of barbecue flavor for a unique taste twist.

THREE-CHEESE SEAFOOD LASAGNA

- 12 uncooked lasagna noodles
- 2 cartons (15 oz. each) ricotta cheese
- 1/2 cup grated parmesan

Place green onion, red pepper, jicama and cilantro in food bowl. Add shrimp. Toss gently. Blend in sour cream mixture, stirring until just blended.

Spoon salad onto lettuce-lined plates. Garnish with reserved whole shrimp, avocado and lime.

Makes 4 servings.

WESTERN QUICHE

- 1 refrigerated pie crust
- 1 lb. ground turkey
- 1 large onion, finely chopped
- 1 green bell pepper, finely chopped
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. cumin
- 1 tsp. dry mustard
- 1 tsp. paprika
- 1/2 tsp. crushed red pepper flakes

1 pkg. (1 oz.) chili seasoning

1/2 cup sour cream

Preheat oven to 350°. Prepare crust as directed on package. Place in 9-inch quiche dish or pie plate.

In large skillet over medium-high heat, cook turkey, stirring to crumble, until meat is fully cooked and no longer pink. Drain.

Preheat oven to 350°. Butter 12-by-9-inch baking pan. Cook noodles according to package directions. Drain. In medium bowl, combine ricotta and parmesan cheese, eggs and pepper.

Line bottom of prepared baking pan with 4 cooked noodles, overlapping to fit. Spoon half the ricotta cheese mixture over noodles. Layer

Makes 6 servings.

Western Quiche Tarts: Use 2 pie crusts. Line 6 individual tart pans with crust. Divide meat and egg mixtures evenly among tarts. Bake in preheated 350° oven 18 to 20 minutes. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake about 3 minutes longer until cheese is melted and knife inserted in center comes out clean.

TORTILLA TORTE

- 1 carton (12 oz.) whipped cream cheese
- 1 pkg. (1 oz.) chili seasoning
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. cumin
- 1/2 tsp. garlic powder
- 2 avocados, peeled, seeded, mashed

Sicilian cauliflower wins with spaghetti

Marguerite Hornemann, 38, of Southwest St. Louis, is the winner of this week's recipe contest for Fried Cauliflower with Spaghetti and Toasted Crumbs. For it she wins a prize of dinner certificates from the Pasta House Co.

This family recipe which came from Sicily with her mother and grandmother is now enjoyed into the fifth generation. Cauliflower is fried, then tossed with spaghetti, cheese, garlic and parsley in a little olive oil. Become the bonus as they are spread over the mixture. She says it is the traditional way children in the family love to eat cauliflower.

Recipes in this month's Green Salad Recipe Contest should be postmarked today for consideration as winner each week in June. The recipe can celebrate lower prices for lettuce or feature other green salad ingredients, like broccoli, peas or celery. In June recipes are requested for fresh cherries, peaches and plums.

Send a final recipe to the green salad contest and enclose one for the CPP contest, if desired. One recipe per household per contest can be sent to: Green Salad or CPP Recipe Contest, Suburban Journals, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo.

As usual, if there is a history to the recipe, it will be considered part of the entry. Along with taste and eye appeal, it will be used as a basis for selecting winners. Originality will be considered, although the recipe need not be original. If possible, name the recipe's source. Include the name of the Journal you receive.

Winners are notified by mail. Duplicate entries will be considered on the basis of earlier entry or best compliance with the rules. Contest winners may enter again six months after the prize-winning publication date.

FRIED CAULIFLOWER WITH SPAGHETTI AND TOASTED CRUMBS

- 1/2 cup fresh bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup grated romano or parmesan cheese
- 1 large clove garlic, finely minced
- 2 tsp. finely minced parsley
- 2 tsp. plus 1/2 cup olive oil
- 1 salt and pepper
- 1 large firm head cauliflower

1 lb. uncooked spaghetti

In small frying pan, combine bread crumbs, cheese, garlic, parsley, 1 tablespoon oil, salt and pepper. Over low heat, cook, stirring constantly, until golden. Remove to serving bowl immediately.

Break cauliflower into flowerets and save some of the tender inner leaves.

Bring 4 quarts salted water to boil in 6-quart pan.

Cook cauliflower until al dente. Using slotted spoon, remove to cookie sheet to firm. Save water.

In large frying pan, heat 1/2 cup olive oil until hot. Slowly add cauliflower.

Fry until golden brown, stirring and turning with spatula to avoid breaking apart.

While cauliflower is frying, bring water to boil again. Add spaghetti.

Cook according to package directions until al dente. Drain, retaining about 2 cups water.

In same large pan, combine spaghetti with cauliflower and the oil.

Mix gently but thoroughly, adding small amount of cooking water if necessary.

To serve, sprinkle crumbs over spaghetti and cauliflower.

Wise Ways

Water can sparkle and fizz but it still is tapped as wet

It was once so simple. We turned on a faucet and out came drinking water.

Now, with bottled waters we have choices — and confusion.

There's still water, sparkling water, mineral water, soda water and flavored water. What's the difference? Labels of different bottled waters can lead to confusion over terms that describe different types of water.

In many cases, the distinctions hinge on the placement of just one word. It helps to know the fine distinctions.

Still water: Water without the fizz caused by gas bubbles. Ordinary tap water and bottled water found in large containers are examples.

Sparkling water: Fizz in this water usually is created by carbon dioxide gas. Normal tap water can be carbonated mechanically and labeled as "sparkling water."

Water that comes from a natural source and is carbonated mechanically is called sparkling natural water. If the carbonation occurs naturally in the underground water source, the water can be labeled naturally sparkling water.

Mineral water: Containing dissolved minerals, it may be sparkling or still, that is, water without fizz. Natural mineral water comes from a natural source with naturally-occurring minerals in it. If the word "natural" does not appear anywhere on the label, the mineral water could be tap water with minerals added or removed.

Soda water: Also called club soda, this is tap water that has been filtered, then carbonated with added mineral salts. It often is used as an extender for alcoholic beverages.

Flavored water: Flavored carbonated waters are increasingly popular. Though they may sound healthier, many contain significant amounts of sugar and are similar in calories to carbonated soft drinks.

With kids home soon for summer vacation, try making your own "soda," using 100 percent fruit juice and club soda.

Youngsters like the fizzy drink and get more than just sugar water.

MAKE-YOUR-OWN SODA

- 1 can (12 oz.) frozen 100 percent fruit juice, such as orange or grape, thawed
- 36 oz. club soda

Place fruit juice in pitcher. For easy measuring, fill can 3 times with cold club soda. Stir briskly. Refrigerate.

Yields six (1-cup) servings; 113 calories, 180 percent recommended daily allowance of vitamin C (made with orange juice) and 1 g fiber each.

Recipe

CRABMEAT POCKETS

- 1 can (6 oz.) crabmeat, drained, cartilage removed, or 1 pkg. (8 oz.) surimi (imitation crab) seafood, thawed, chopped
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese
- 1/2 cup tartar sauce
- 1/4 cup sliced green onion with tops
- 4 (6 inch) pita pocket breads
- 2 cups shredded lettuce

Mix together crabmeat, celery, cheese, tartar sauce and onion.

Cut pitas in half to form pockets. Fill each half with 1/4 cup lettuce and about 1/4 cup crabmeat mixture. Makes 4 servings; 410 calories.

spoons oil, garlic, 1/4 cup green onion and 1/4 cup cilantro. Rub over pork. Place pork in glass dish. Refrigerate, covered, at least 1 hour or overnight.

In medium bowl, combine black beans, red pepper, corn, lime peel and remaining onion, cilantro, lime juice and oil. Chill, covered, at least 1 hour to blend flavors.

Before serving, bring bean mixture to room temperature. Grill or broil pork 25 to 30 minutes, turning once, until internal temperature reaches 160°.

To serve, place each tenderloin in 24 pieces.

Spread 1 tablespoon sour cream on each flour tortilla. Top with 2 slices pork and 1/2 cup bean mixture. Fold up one end of tortilla, then fold in sides like envelope. Serve warm with salsa and additional sour cream, if desired.

THE LIGHT TOUCH

By Mark Lymeropoulos

Questions to ponder: When a psychiatrist treats a patient with a split personality, does he use a double couch? Does he send two bills?

Heard about the devil who backed into a lawnmower, then stopped in a liquor store because he heard that their retail price was just as pretty as they were five years ago. It just takes them a little longer to get that way.

Pessimist: Someone who goes through life wearing morose-colored glasses. You know why people cry at weddings? Because they've been through the same thing and they know it's no laughing matter.

Wrap berries 'n' cheese in dough for great braid

Discover the wonderful combination of fresh strawberries and cream cheese in freshly baked coffee cake.

The 1-2-3 method for making this delectable braided bread is thaw, roll and bake. Start with frozen bread dough. The delicately-rich cheese and filling in tender fresh yeast bread makes breakfast into a special occasion.

STRAWBERRIES AND CREAM BREAD

- 1 loaf (1 lb.) frozen bread dough, thawed
- 6 oz. cream cheese, softened
- 1/4 cup chopped fresh strawberries
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- Melted butter or margarine
- Glaze

Note: Strawberry preserves can be substituted for fresh strawberries; decrease sugar to 2 tablespoons.

In medium bowl, beat cream cheese, strawberries, sugar and vanilla until creamy.

On lightly floured surface, roll thawed dough to 10-by-18 inch rectangle.

Carefully transfer dough onto greased baking sheet.

Starting at middle of short end, spread cream cheese mixture down center third of dough.

Using kitchen shears or sharp knife, make 2-inch-long cuts (on unit) cut his filling at 1-inch intervals down both 14-inch sides.

Fold strips diagonally over filling, overlapping strips to give braided look.

Pinch dough to seal end seams. Brush with butter.

Let rise in warm area 45 minutes to 1 hour until puffy.

Preheat oven to 375°. Bake 20 to 25 minutes until golden brown.

Remove from oven to cool on wire rack. Drizzle Glaze over bread.

Glaze: Mix 2 cups confectioner's sugar, 1 to 2 tablespoons milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla well.

Thai flavors tie up grill for cuisine in hot demand

Thai cuisine is "hot," judging by the number of Thai restaurants springing up everywhere.

Try Thai Beef Grill at home. Simply brush beef top loin steaks and sweet onion slices with teriyaki sauce and grill them. Although any onion variety can be grilled, for the sweetest onion flavor, look for varieties like Vidalia from Georgia, Walla Walla from the state of Washington, Maui from Hawaii or Texas Sweet.

Top loin steaks, sometimes called New York strip or Kansas City steak, are a great choice for grilling. As always, the secret to great grilled beef is to use coals at a medium temperature so steaks cook evenly throughout without overcooking on the outside. Lean top loin steaks are most tender and flavorful when cooked medium-rare to medium doneness.

Peanut sauce, a typical accompaniment to Thai dishes, makes a complementary flavor mate to beef and teriyaki. This easy peanut sauce is made with just four ingredients — teriyaki sauce, creamy peanut butter, water and the crushed red pepper that lends a hint of heat to the sauce. Stir it together while the steaks and onion are grilling.

Oriental noodles tossed with sesame oil, stir-fried snow peas and red bell pepper strips are a colorful accompaniment.

"Grilled Beef Easy and Delicious" can help with other grilled meals. Seven recipes with step-by-step directions to get that irresistible smoky flavor from grilling have side recipes for rules and marinades. It also has tips for working with the grill's fire and food safety information.

POSTAL NOTES

The Hope Diamond Went To The Smithsonian By Mail.

Back in 1958, when the owners of the Hope Diamond wanted to send their million dollar gem to the Smithsonian Institution, they mailed it.

And every year people are buying more and more merchandise by mail. Last year, consumers ordered $57 billion worth of merchandise from catalogs, and they trusted the mail to deliver a great deal of it safely—from bird feeders to $400 boots.

One big reason why people could have such confidence in the integrity of the mail is the U.S. Postal Inspection Service. Our dedicated Postal Inspectors make sure that anybody can mail almost anything, from stocks and bonds to precious family keepsakes—and be assured that it will get where it's going safely.

Postal Inspectors help business, too. Working with the financial industry, Inspectors helped reduce fraud from credit card theft by 35% in 1993, and by an additional 23% in the following year. In fact, it was a Postal Inspector who thought of thwarting credit card thefts by implementing a program whereby new credit cards are activated by calling an 800 telephone number.

With a well-earned reputation for perseverance and professionalism, our Postal Inspectors are there to protect your mail for the price of a stamp. Quite a bargain.

Turkey and chicken salad roll with fruit flavors

As the seasons turn, people look for new foods to eat. It may be a creative dressing or an unusual combination of ingredients, but it should make a delicious food more substantial and fit the season.

One simple, satisfying salad incorporates nutritious banana with juicy oranges, berries and dates.

Peppercorn Turkey Salad makes a whole meal that is light in fat, satisfying in flavor and luscious to see. For a salad idea for a group, turn to chicken and pineapple with tropical fruit and more wholesome ingredients.

PEPPERCORN TURKEY SALAD

- 6 oz. turkey cutlet or boned, skinned chicken breast
- 1 tsp. oil
- 2 tbsp. water
- 1 tsp. bottled green peppercorns, crushed
- 1 tsp. Dijon mustard
- 1 tsp. reduced-sodium soy sauce
- Salad greens
- 1 banana, peeled, sliced
- 1 orange, peeled, sectioned
- 8 strawberries, halved
- 1 lb. asparagus, trimmed, steamed
- 1/2 cup nonfat plain yogurt
- 4 dates, pitted, chopped
- Grated peel of 1 orange
- 1/4 tsp. vanilla

In nonstick skillet, brown turkey on both sides in oil. Add water, peppercorns, mustard and soy sauce. Simmer 2 to 3 minutes. Cool. Slice.

Arrange salad greens on 2 plates. Arrange turkey, banana, orange, strawberries and asparagus over greens. Spoon pan drippings over turkey. Serve with dressing.

Citrus Date Dressing: In blender, process yogurt, dates, orange peel and vanilla until dates are finely chopped. Dressing keeps in refrigerator 2 weeks.

Makes 2 servings; 293 calories, 20 g protein, 5 g fat, 48 g carbohydrate, 479 mg sodium and 35 mg cholesterol each.

TROPICAL RICE SALAD

- 2 chicken breast halves, skinned, boned
- 1 1/2 tsp. coarse black pepper
- Salt, if desired
- 1 tsp. oil
- 1/2 fresh pineapple
- 2 cloves garlic, pressed or diced
- 1/2 cup white vinegar
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 3 cups cooked rice

- 1 small red onion, thinly sliced
- 1 bunch radishes, sliced
- 1 1/2 cups shredded carrot
- 1 cup sliced cucumber

Pound chicken to 1/2-inch thickness. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon pepper and salt to taste. In hot oil, brown on both sides. Cover. Cook through, shaking pan occasionally. Cool. Slice.

Twist crown from whole pineapple. Cut fruit in half lengthwise. (Refrigerate half for another use, such as stir-fry dishes.) Cut pineapple in half again. Remove fruit from shell. Trim off core. Cut fruit in chunks.

Toss pineapple chunks, remaining 1/2 teaspoon pepper, garlic, vinegar, sugar, rice, onion, radishes, carrot and cucumber. Just before serving, toss with chicken.

Makes 8 servings; 166 calories, 8.5 g protein, 1.3 g fat, 31 g carbohydrate, 286 mg sodium and 17 mg cholesterol each.

FLORIDA-STYLE BARBECUED CHICKEN

- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 3/4 cup water
- 1 cup ketchup
- 1/2 cup frozen grapefruit juice concentrate, thawed
- 1 to 2 tsp. brown sugar
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tsp. prepared mustard
- 3 lb. meaty chicken pieces (breasts, thighs and drumsticks)

Florida Citrus Points, if desired

In saucepan, cook onion in 2 tablespoons water 5 minutes or until onion is tender. Stir in remaining water, ketchup, grapefruit juice concentrate, sugar, Worcestershire sauce and mustard. Bring to boil. Reduce heat. Simmer, covered, 30 minutes. Remove skin from chicken pieces. Rinse chicken. Pat dry. Grill bone-side up on rack directly over medium coals 20 minutes. Turn chicken. Grill 15 to 25 minutes more until chicken is tender and no longer pink. Brush chicken occasionally with barbecue sauce last 10 minutes of grilling. Serve chicken with remaining barbecue sauce that has been heated. Garnish with Florida Citrus Points.

Store any remaining barbecue sauce, covered, in refrigerator up to 1 week. Bring to boil before using.

Florida Citrus Points: Cut unpeeled grapefruit or orange in half lengthwise through stem end. Place one half cut-side down; cut in half again through the stem end. Holding 2 cut quarters side-by-side, slice crosswise, making points.

Makes 6 servings; 312 calories, 37 g protein, 9 g fat, 19 g carbohydrate, 109 mg cholesterol, 651 mg sodium and 1 g dietary fiber each.

Seafood may not be on the menu as often as the family likes — but it should be and can be. The trick to eating tasty seafood economically is to add surimi (imitation crab) seafood to favorite menu ideas.

A product developed by the Japanese more than 1,000 years ago, surimi seafood is made from mild white fish, such as Alaskan pollock or whiting, which is shaped and flavored to look and taste like crab, lobster and scallops in sticks, flakes or chunks.

There are many reasons to enjoy the delicate taste of America's ultimate convenience food:

- A 3-ounce portion has about 90 calories and is low in fat and cholesterol, so it is helpful for weight control.
- Fully cooked, it is ready to eat or can be served hot or cold in soup, salad or a main dish.

- It tastes delicious, but costs less per pound than most other seafood products.

- It is available year-round. For a free recipe booklet with more ways to ride the waves with surimi, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: SSEC, 1525 Wilson Blvd., Suite 500, Arlington, Va. 22209.

These tantalizing recipes will nurture a fondness for seafood and fill a need for quick, easy main dishes morning, noon and night.

- 6 eggs
- 2 tbsp. picante sauce
- 3/4 cup (3 oz.) grated reduced-fat cheddar cheese
- 4 (8 1/2 inch) flour tortillas

In small skillet, bring water to boil. Add potato. Cover. Reduce heat. Cook 3 to 5 minutes, stirring frequently, until potato is tender.

Coat large skillet with non-stick cooking spray. Heat oil over medium heat. Add potato, seafood, tomato and cilantro. Cook, stirring gently, 2 to 3 minutes.

Beat eggs and picante sauce well. Pour over seafood mixture. Cook over medium-low heat, stirring occasionally, until egg is almost set.

Stir in cheese. Cook until egg is set but still moist and cheese is melted.

Divide egg equally among flour tortillas, spooning down center of each tortilla. Fold. Serve at once with additional picante sauce, if desired. Makes 4 servings; 402 calories, 16 g fat, 28 g protein, 35 g carbohydrate, 348 mg cholesterol and 556 mg sodium each.

chini and parmesan cheese. In jar, combine salad dressing and mustard blend. Cover. Shake well. Toss well with salad ingredients. Makes 4 to 6 main-dish servings; 309 calories, 23 g protein, 28 g carbohydrate, 11 g fat, 41 mg cholesterol and 1,026 mg sodium each.

SEAFOOD FAJITAS

- 2 pkg. (8 oz. each) flaked surimi (imitation crab)
- 1/4 cup lime juice
- 1 clove garlic, pressed
- 1/4 tsp. chili powder
- 1 medium onion, peeled, thinly sliced in rings
- 1 tsp. olive oil
- 8 flour tortillas, warmed

Condiments: chopped avocado, sour cream, picante sauce, grated cheese

In glass bowl, combine seafood, lime juice, garlic and chili powder. Let stand, covered, 30 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Coat large skillet with non-stick cooking spray. Add oil and onion rings. Cook over medium heat, stirring frequently, about 5 minutes until onion is browned. Remove from skillet.

Add drained seafood to skillet. Cook, stirring frequently, about 3 minutes over medium heat until heated through.

Arrange seafood and onion on serving platter. To serve, spoon seafood and onion down center of each tortilla. Add condiments as desired. Roll or fold tortillas.

Makes four (2-fajita) servings; 368 calories, 24 g protein, 51 g carbohydrates, 7 g fat, 34 mg cholesterol and 503 mg sodium each.

SEAFOOD, GREENS AND PASTA SALAD

- 1 bag (10 oz.) Italian-style salad mix (romaine and radicchio lettuce)
- 2 cups cooked noodles
- 1 pkg. (8 oz.) flaked surimi (imitation crab) seafood
- 1 lb. provolone cheese, cut julienne
- 1 cup zucchini, cut julienne
- 1/4 cup grated parmesan cheese
- 1/2 cup Italian salad dressing
- 2 tsp. Dijon mustard and mayonnaise blend

In salad bowl, layer, in order, lettuce, noodles, seafood, provolone cheese, zuc-

BREAKFAST BURRITO

- 1/4 cup water
- 1 cup shredded, peeled potato
- 2 tsp. oil
- 1 pkg. (8 oz.) flaked surimi (imitation crab) seafood
- 1 cup chopped, seeded tomato
- 1/4 cup chopped fresh cilantro

Recipe

PEPPERED SWORDFISH STEAKS

- 1 lemon

- 1 lb. swordfish steaks
- 1 onion, thinly sliced
- Seasoned pepper
- Garlic salt

Thinly slice half the lemon. Place sliced lemon in single layer in center of large sheet of heavy-duty aluminum foil. Generously sprinkle both sides of fish with pepper and garlic salt. Place on top of sliced lemon. Top with onion.

Wrap foil around steaks. Fold to seal in juices. Cook on grill 10 to 12 minutes.
